Dear All,

As we all are aware about the environmental degradation taking place alarmingly because of the pollution caused by the chemical and hazardous industries, deforestation and other development projects. Rivers, lakes and even ground water in many parts of India have become polluted. The Environmental degradation is having a serious impact on the life and health of the people despite the existence of various environmental laws.

During the last few years we have sensitized numerous lawyers from India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Srilanka, Nepal and Bhutan and more than 500 NGOs from India through various training programmes for shorter and longer duration. These programmes have helped young lawyers and NGOs to know on the issues of Environment, law, policy, enforcement mechanism and the role of Courts/Green Tribunals in the protection of environment, life and health of the people.

MCMEF has set up a national level forum dedicated to cater the need of pollution free environment. The name of the forum is “Innovative Green Thinkers India” which will involve its members in various activities to protect the environment by facilitating the dialogue and action oriented programmes among law students, lawyers, scientists, policy makers, business executives and citizens. The Goal is to create awareness and active participation at all levels for the protection of environment, natural resources and work for the Clean and Green India.

MCMEF invites you to be the member of the “Innovative Green Thinkers India” and work for the noble cause of Clean and Green India. The registration fee is Rs. 200 for one year. The last date for registration is 25th November 2013. Please send the registration form duly filled along with the registration fee through the bank draft in favour of M.C.
